REORGANIZING THE NAVY DEPARTMENT. The Secretary of the Navy last Thursday afternoon promulgated a General Order which has more completely revolutionized the methods of administration of the Navy Department than has been known to that branch of the service since the bureau system was established, administration by the arrogant claims of the several Chiefs of Bureau to absolutely control in certain matters, and when a Secretary has rebelled against the petty official tyrauny of the own subordinates, outside influence has been called in to head off his efforts to reform

Only a few years ago, a Secretary of the Navy was bluntly told by a Chief of Bureau, when the Secretary directed the detail of a certain officer to a specified ship: "Oh, he can't be detailed to that ship. I've promised her to another man."

Mr. Chandler, when Secretary, made strong efforts to create a new order of things; but he found his subordinates too strong in outside influence, and he gave the matter up in angry

Mr. Whitney saw through the trouble, and formulated a plan of reorganization which would enable him to be Secretary of the Navy in fact as well as name, but he was headed off and forced to go to Congress to ask for authority to do the thing Secretary Tracy has now done, and which he was then fully entitled under the statutes to do.

Under the new order of things the Chief of the Bureau of Navigation will not virtually command the Navy, but will be an adjutant to the Secretary of the Navy, and he will lose his absurd jurisdiction over such important work as that of the Hydrographic Office and the Naval Observatory; but, reasonably, as such adjutant, he acquires supervision over the personnel of the service, in addition to the detail and movements of officers, that places all of the unlisted force under his office, instead of the Bureau of Equipment, as heretolore.

The Bureau of Equipment becomes an office to surpervise the equipment of vessels; to furtish sails and cordage, standing and running rigging, but drops the keeping of the rolls of hips' crews, and the authority for enlistment and discharge of men before the mast. Heresofore it was within the authority-assumed, mther than legalized-of the Chief of the Busean of Equipment to order the discharge of any enlisted man in the Navy or authorize an

The purchases henceforth will be made by the corps of officers commissioned and bonded to make payments, and they will no longer be nade by half a dozen bureaus, no one of which tnew or cared to know what the other was suying. Under the old system the Bureau of steam Engineering might have thousands of ling at San Antonio, Tex. stored at convenient places, or have nundreds of tons on board a vessel in commistion for active service, but not a bushel or a pound of it could be had for the ship's galley to prepare the rations for all hands. The Paymaster at a station or on board ship might be a possession of roll after roll of light canvass so sell the men for "duck" suits, but not one rard of it could be turned over to make a jib for a quarter boat. On each ship in commission in the Navy the present system requires separate sets of acsounts for Pay; Small Stores; Equipment; Medical Stores; Ordnance and Steam Engineerthree returns will be made-Paymaster's, Surreon's and Ordnauce Officers.

The Bureau of Ordnance is not affected at all ander this order, and very little change comes to the Bureau of Steam Engineering or to that of the Yards and Docks, except that the latter is given control of the building and repairs of all structures in navy yards, instead of, as seretofore, letting Ordnance, Equipment, Engincering and Construction each construct and aquip its own buildings.

If Capt. Gustavus A. Fox had been far sightad enough in the days of the rebellion to have advised Secretary Welles to such a step as this, It is not rash to venture the assertion that the expense of the construction and maintenance of the Navy during that war would have been | Cairo, Egypt. at least one-tenth less.

One other bureau sails serenely along as unaffected by the new order of affairs as the Ordand quell malarial attacks as heretofore; but Pay Corps to pay out the funds.

CRONIN'S MURDERERS.

The Grand Jury Still Examining New Suspects, The grand jury investigating the Cronin case took a turn at a combination of Camp 20 they issued a subpena duces tecum on in safety. It has been found impossible Minister Resident and Consul-General of the so far by the grand jury to learn what disposition was made by Sullivan of the money he drew from J. T. Lester & Co. The grand jury are trying to verify, if possible, the charges Augustus O. Brown, of Rhode Island, to be | made by Dr. Cronin that Sullivan squandered the money of the organization.

At the Friday morning's session, the Clanand Consul-General of the United States at | na-Gael was the object of inquiry, and quite a number of men wearing unmistakable Hibernian countenances and names passed the Bailiffs who were on guard, and went up to take their turns.

State's Attorney Longenecker received a rethe anonymous letter in regard to the recent trial in Camp 20 to meet him. The unsigned letter stated that Dr. Cronin was tried by an "inner circle" in Camp 20. It gave what purported to be the names of the men who formed the trial committee and who formerly decreed the death of Cronin as a British spy. The writer said he himself had been a member of the trial committee, but had withdrawn when he at Ottawa, Kan. became convinced that the Doctor's death was Sullivan, Frank Woodruff, Patrick Cooney and John Kuntze for the murder of Dr. Crovin. The participation of Alexander Sullivan in the crime, or his responsibility for it, will be a matter of investigation for the next grand jury.

Facts to be Remembered .- Many meteorological observers experience some trouble in the use of the word nimbus in cloud nomenclature,

and in some quarters an unfortunate confusion

has arisen from the uncertain use of the term.

Every kind of cloud from which rain falls is a ninbus, and there are practically two sorts: (1) cumulo-nimbus, the rocky cumulus cloud from which rain falls in squalls or showers; (2) pure nimbus, a flatter cloud, more like the heavy strato-cumulus that forms from or under cirrostratus in front of extra tropical cyclones. Howard calls nimbus "a cloud or system of clouds from which rain is falling. It is a horizontal sheet above which the cirrus spreads, while the cumulus enters it laterally and from beneath.'

We are prepared to offer to Comrades, or Sons of Veterans, or to members of the Woman's Relief Corps, a light and profitable business. We have the original Photographic War Views taken by the U.S. Government Photographers during the great war of 1861 to 1865. We want reliable agents in each State to give war exhibitions and to sell these views. It pays better than a pension. We shall be pleased to have any one call at our office and see the views on exhibition, or write to us (enclosing stamps for return postage) for our New Descriptive Catalogue. These are genuine Photographic War Scenes; not engravings or paintings, but actual photographs taken during the war. Call on

WALTHAM GOLD WATCHES!

For the accommodation of those who prefer an Elizia or a Waltham movement we have secured an amortment in the best gold filled hunting cases. We need not say anything about these watches, because they have been before the public for a generation or more, except that we warrant the works to be bona-fide Elgin and Waltham works and the cases to be of the best filled gold in the market. We have both ladies' and gentlemen's watches, Elgin, but only the gentlemen's watch with Waltham works.

emembering that all the ladies' watches are Elgins. while of the gentlemen's we have either Elgin or Waltham. Our Proposition.-We send these watches to any address by express or registered mail, we paying charges, with The National Tribune for one year for $21, or we will give one of these watches for a club of 20 subscribers for one year, and $15 additional money.

A WATCH FOR NOTHING! What watch?

The Trenton. Let's see it!

Here it is.

Any Jeweler Can Take it Apart and Put it Up Again.

THE TRENTON is the best watch for the money in the world. It is the result of Yankee genius and years of labor combined. The Trenton has a jeweled balance, removable without taking off the top plate; is a stem-wind and stem-set, with back ratchet. It is a three-quarter plate, with quick train (18,000 beats per hour.) All the movements are carefully regulated and inspected before leaving the factory.

The "Diamond Silver Case," in which the works are placed, is the best combination of silver and nickel ever used. THE TRENTON is no longer an experiment. It is an assured success, and pronounced so by all who have seen it. THE WATCH for the million.
